SUMMARY DESCRIPTION

Property “Former RSA and CSS” in Lucignano, Via Matteotti 66B, Arezzo

- The town of Lucignano currently has around 3,600 inhabitants distributed over a hilly area that is developed to the south-west of Arezzo, the capital of the province that is about 28 km from the medieval centre. The municipality, in the heart of Val di Chiana, is delimited by the towns of Monte San Savino to the north, Marciano della Chiana and Foiano della Chiana to the east, Sinalunga to the south and Rapolano Terme to the west (the latter two municipalities are in the province of Siena). The town of Lucignano can be divided into two distinct areas: the central area that is wooded and largely hilly, which is suited to oil and wine production; the surrounding areas which are flat, with abundant cereal crops (especially wheat, barley, maize, sunflower) and display flowers. The ancient settlement of Lucignano on the other hand stands on a hill of around 400 m above sea level.
- The geographic location has always characterised Lucignano as a crossroads between the cities of Arezzo, Siena and Perugia. Even today the city holds a certain strategic importance and is the destination for tourists attracted by the value of the historic centre. The property in question is in fact directly in the historic centre on via Matteotti.
- The property is a structure dating to the medieval era that is set over a total of four floors and a basement floor. Over the years the building has been subject to numerous restructuring interventions. The last restructuring dates back to 1990 and the inside and outside maintenance conditions can be defined as generally good.
- The structure is in loadbearing masonry with mainly wooden ceilings. The roof is pitched and surfaced with brick tiles. Inside, the floors are mainly terracotta. On the ground floor there is a small chapel which is still consecrated and in use, and can be directly accessed by via Matteotti. The rear of the building faces towards the valley with a panoramic view over the surrounding hills.
